

ACTIVITIES REPORT 2010 - 2018

Dear Friends,

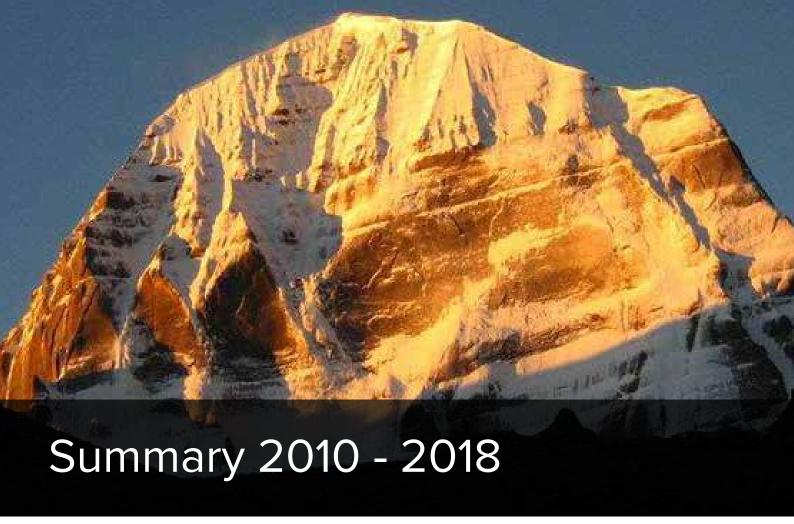

The Shang Shung Institute UK (SSIUK) is pleased to present a summary of the activities that our team of dedicated staff, volunteers and supporters have carried out since its inception in May 2010 under the guidance and direction of Chögyal Namkhai Norbu. Our projects since 2010 are listed below as well as our forthcoming projects. This will give you an overview of our work in the past years.

Our heartfelt thanks go to Chögyal Namkhai Norbu. We would also like to express our gratitude to Dr Nathan Hill (SOAS) for his generous and untiring commitment and to the many supporters, volunteers and donors who graciously share their time, skills and resouces to help the Shang Shung Institute UK (SSIUK) fulfill its mission to preserve, diffuse and promote Tibetan culture throughout the world. In particular, we would like to give thanks and pay our respects to the late Dominic Kennedy and Judith Allan who both played pivotal roles in the establishment of the Institute here in the UK.

The SSIUK is a nonprofit organisation that relies on your support to continue and develop. We hope that this report serves to inspire you, and we would like to invite you to actively participate in our work through donations, sponsorship and legacies. You can see details of how you may do this on the last page of this booklet.

With our very best wishes,

Julia Lawless - International Director of Tibetan Culture Prof. Fabian Sanders - Academic Director Anne Bancroft - Arts Director Richard Steven - Company Secretary

Background

- The SSIUK and SOAS lecture series are core activities of the SSIUK that have been made possible through close collaboration with Dr Nathan Hill in the Tibetan Studies department at SOAS (London University) and with Lekdanling Tibetan Cultural Centre in East London.
- The aim of the SSIUK & SOAS lecture series is to provide lectures with academics and experts in the field of Tibetan studies so that they may share their knowledge, and to make their work available to as wide an audience as possible via audio recordings and transcriptions that are published on our website www.shangshunguk.org

Helping to Keep Knowledge of Tibetan Culture
Alive and Available

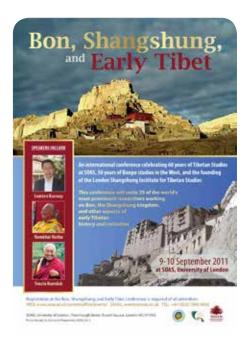

One of the principle activities of the SSIUK is the hosting of major conferences on the subject of Tibetan studies with the worlds foremost experts in the field.

Bon, Shang Shung and Early Tibet Conference - September 2011

In 2011 we teamed up with SOAS and jointly hosted the international conference on 'Bon, Shang Shung and Early Tibet'. This high profile two day conference included keynote speeches by Chogyal Namkhai Norbu, Samten Karmay and Lopon Tenzin Namdak, three of the world's leading scholars in the field of Tibetan studies. This conference provided an excellent forum for both scholars and students to mix and share their knowledge. Conference proceedings are available online from our website.

Other speakers included: Dr Charles Ramble (École Pratique des Hautes Études), Khenpo Tenpa Yungdrung (Triten Norbutse Monastery), Professor Zhaba (Central University for Nationalities), Professor Mark Des Jardins (Concordia University), Professor Geoffrey Samuel (Cardiff University), Dr Fabian Sanders (Università Ca' Foscari Venezia and International Shang Shung Institute), Dr Dan Martin (Tibetan Classics Project), Dr Hank Blezer (Leiden University Institute for Area Studies), Professor Shung Karma Gyaltsen (Institute of Tibetan Medicine and Astrology Naari Prefecture), Dmitry Ermakov (Oxford University), Dr

Robert Mayer (The Oriental Institute, University of Oxford), Professor Donatella Rossi (Università di Roma La Sapienza), Dr Cathy Cantwell (The Oriental Institute, University of Oxford), Dr Sam van Schaik (International Dunhuang Project, The British Library), Dr Ronit Yoeli-Tlalim (Goldsmiths, University of London).

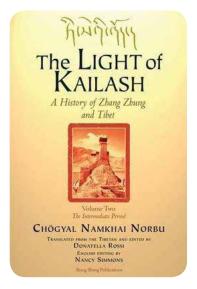

Dr Brandon Dotson (Institut für Indologie und Tibetologie,Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München), Professor Tsering Thar (Central University for Nationalities), Professor Mark Aldenderfer (University of California, Merced), Dr Amy Heller (Centre de recherche sur les civilisations de l'asie orientale, CNRS Paris). This conference provided an excellent forum for both scholars and students to mix and share their knowledge. Conference proceedings are published here: Click Here

Padmasambhava Conference: Different Aspects - September 2013

On the 14th September 2013 we held a one day conference on Different Aspects of Padmasambhava co-hosted once again with SOAS with a keynote speech by Chögyal Namkhai Norbu. Other speakers included Lama Jampa Thaye, Dr Gyurme Dorje, Mike Dickman, Dr Cathy Cantwell, Dr Rob Meyer, Dr Fabian Sanders, Dr Martin Boord, Dr Lewis Doney, Jamyang Oliphant.

Acknowledgements

We would like to thank Dr Nathan Hill at SOAS for his continued collaboration and support without which much of our programme would not be possible. We would also like to thank our donors for this project both past and future. In particular we would like to thank Oliver Leick (SSI Austria), Mike Farmer, Olga Komendantova, Wayne Hunt, Lucilla Baj, El'viye Izmailova, Alexandr Domozhirov, Satori Panagopoulus, Tina Ferragamo, Stefano Mori, Baz Hurrell, Joe Manger, William Mansfield, Amely Becker, Annelie Watson.

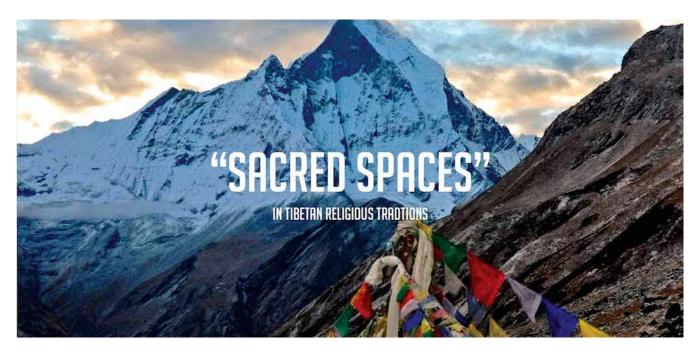

'The Light of Kailash' by Professor Namkhai Norbu at ASIA House

The third volume of 'Light of Kailash' was also launched in collaboration with SSIUK at SOAS in October 2015. We would very much like to thank Professor Namkhai Norbu for visiting London to deliver this lecture.

Connected to the conference on Padmasambhava, Professor Namhkai Norbu, one of the world's leading Tibetologists and an authority on early Tibetan history, delivered a keynote speech at ASIA House on the 3rd October 2013. The lecture was based on the second volume of his authoritative history of Tibet 'The Light of Kailash: A History of Zhang Zhung and Early Tibet'. This volume covers the time of Padmasambhava in Tibet.

The SSIUK depends on donations in order enable our projects. Without the generosity of our donors, this project and others like it would not be possible. We greatly value your continued support.

Sacred Spaces in Tibetan Religious Traditions Keynote Speaker: Ian Baker - October 2016

In this conference, we explored Sacred Spaces in the context of Himalayan culture. This conference will brought together some of the foremost active researchers on Tibetan religion, geography, art and culture to discuss the notions of what makes places and objects sacred. Practical demonstrations of yogic exercises and meditational dance under the guidance of leading practitioners were also included.

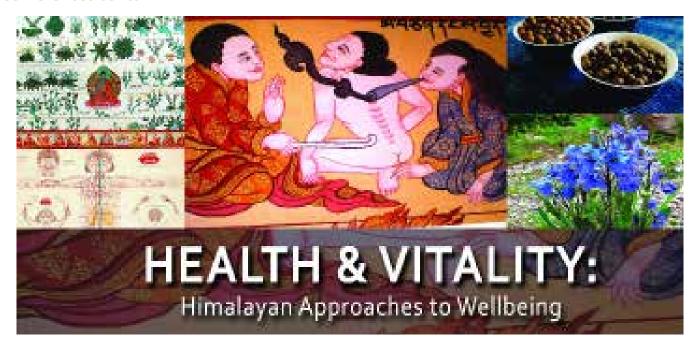

The talks and ensuing discussions will focused on a variety of topics; how a place may be intrinsically sacred through its geomantic or geographical attributes and how sacredness may also be created or embraced by consecration and propitiatory rites. Sacred landscapes and mandala art were also examined in depth.

The first day was dedicated to examining perceptions of sacred space in the Himalayan context, referring to specific power places & landscapes. We also learned how museums choose to acquire and represent sacred objects. the symbolism of the mandala and the specific architecture of the Lukhang Temple along with explanations of guardian deity rituals.

On the second day, we explored the interaction between the devotee & the sacred through exploring the nature of pilgrimage. We also learned about yogic practices & the meditative Dance of the Vajra. The sacred nature inherent in each of us, was also explored in the context of the ancient practice of Yantra Yoga. In the afternoon there was an introduction to the geography of Tibet and a case study of Pemako, a sacred 'hiddenland' (known to Tibetans as 'be-yul').

Acknowledgements

We would like to thank all of the speakers who participated in this conference: Ian Baker, Robert Beer, Professor Fabian Sanders (University of Venice), Anne Bancroft (V&A Museum), Dr Tim Myatt (University of Oxford), Cameron Bailey (University of Oxford), Naomi Levine (author), Cindy Faulkner, Mike Farmer, John Renshaw.

Health and Vitality: Himalayan Approaches to Wellbeing Keynote Speaker: Lelung Rinpoche - March 2017

In this conference, we explored the main principles underlying the therapeutic theory and practice of the Tibetan medical approaches to wellbeing. We explored the most important and efficient ways of maintaining optimum personal health and vitality and learned ways in which we can effectively cope with the everyday pressures of our modern lives.

Acknowledgements

We would like to thank our Lelung Rinpoche, Dr Ekaterina Valeeva-Farrington, Elio Guarisco, John Renshaw for their presentations and Dr Jamyang Oliphant (University of Oxford) for co-ordination.

Himalayan Music & Dance Festival - October 2017

In this weekend of Himalayan experience, we celebrated a variety of Himalayan and Mongolian dance and musical traditions with practical workshops including 'Meditation in Movement' through dance, 'Sacred Sound' and 'Mongolian Overtone Chanting' together with performances by Ngawang and the Namlo band and Tibetan dancers from the Tibetan Community in London.

Acknowledgements

Ngawang and the Namlo Band, Lena Dumcheva, Cindy Faulkner, Yak Bites, Premila Van-Ommen, The Tibetan Community of London dancers, Michael Orniston.

Festival of Mind: Mindfulness, Past, Present & Future - May 2018

Our first 'Festival of Mind' to examine mindfulness from a range of traditional & contemporary perspectives. We will looked at the value of mindfulness and it's possible future applications in the West with a panel of international experts including Ian Baker, Elio Guarisco, Igor Berkhin, Charlie Morley, Laura Donington and Paul Weilgus, by exploring such questions as: How can mindfulness help us to enrich our busy daily lives? What are the possible pit-falls of the modern mindfulness movement? Where will the potentiality of mindfulness take us in the future?

Events included:

SSIUK LECTURE: 'Mindfulness Now: Where Has it Come From; Where is it Going?' with Ian Baker

Elio Guarisco: 'Going Beyond Constraints: Mindfulness as a Relaxed Effortless Presence.'

Igor Berkhin: 'Mindfulness: Origins, Perspectives, Challenges'.

Ian Baker: 'Mindfulness in the Buddhist Tantras: Historical Challenges to Monastic-based Contemplative

Practice & its Modern Manifestations'

Insight Tours

Our travel venture bringing you to the most important Buddhist sites around the world

In January 2015, recognising a need to facilitate travel to important Buddhist locations, we started Insight Tours. The aim of Insight Tours is to provide guided expeditions to all of the the key international Buddhist locations at a competetive price. All our trips are led by experienced tour guides who have a personal knowledge and insight into the significance of each specific Buddhist location. There are many iconic and fascinating Buddhist sites around the world which are instilled with the 'siddhi' or power of spiritual practice. Spending time at these important places in person, can help us connect directly with the rich history of Buddhist culture and the highly realised individuals who practiced there.

In collaboration with the Dzogchen Community UK, after a hugely successful fundraising campaign, in the Autumn of 2015, Lekdanling Tibetan Cultural Centre became the new home for the Shang Shung Institute UK.

This versatile space houses a therapy room, workshop space and our bookshop. We have already held many courses in yoga, dance & Danguage in this venue, as well as our SSIUK lecture series and weekend workshops plus hosting several conferences.

Lekdanling is a beautiful space where we can house our onsite shop and hold all of our courses and events.

Online Tibetan Language Learning Tools

Audio, Video & Graphics Tools for All

In January 2011, Richard Steven of the SSIUK web development team started a collaboration with the Ka Ter translation project of the Shang Shung Institute Austria and Dr Fabian Sanders (University of Venice) to produce a set of online Tibetan language learning tools that had been developed over several years by Dr Sanders.

The project consists of a collection of audio, visual and text materials for the study of various aspects of the Tibetan Language – reading and writing, grammar and translation. The materials for these tools have been gathered from Tibetans in various monasteries across the Himalayan region.

The first stage of this project is now 'live' in the form of a Tibetan Alphabet Learning Tool for both Wylie and Drajyor transliteration systems (See www.shangshunguk.org). This consists of a set of videos that contain pronunciation by native speaking Tibetan monks, images of each character and video footage depicting how to write the characters using calligraphy in Uchen script. This initial phase of the project will be followed by similar tools for learning grammar and sentence construction.

About the Ka Ter Translation Project

The Ka-Ter Translation Project is co-ordinated by the Shang Shung Institute in Austria and has been endorsed by HH XIV. Dalai Lama. It is a very important project designed to serve people who are interested in the Buddhist Teachings and Tibetan culture in general. Without precise and correct translations of traditional Tibetan texts, it is not easy for the ancient knowledge of Tibetan culture to be understood by non native speakers. The Ka-Ter Translation Project takes important steps in this direction:

- Provides training for translators from Tibetan into other languages for beginners, intermediate and advanced students
- Translation and publication of the Dzogchen Tantras
- Tibetan language study courses including courses on the phonetical transcritption system Drajyor and online language courses
- Project for the preservation of the Terma teachings of the great Terton Changchub Dorje and others

Articles Repository

Student and Academic Resources

Since its inception, the SSIUK has been accumulating a wealth of material that we are gradually making available as an online resource to all those who are interested in Tibetan culture. This resource so far includes transcriptions by volunteers of our own lectures and articles submitted to us by experts in the field. There is also a range of audio recordings of our lecture series and various weekend courses that we have made available as downloads via our online shop. In future we would like to add video and interactive material, growing the archive so that it becomes a 'go-to' place for anyone studying the culture of Tibet and its related Himalayan context.

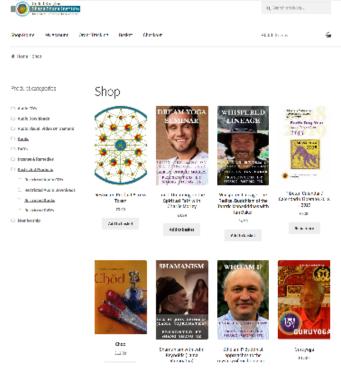

Thanks to our Volunteers

We would like to say a special thank you to our transcription volunteers, Emiliano Diego-Franceskides and Barry Patterson who have painstakingly sieved through hours of audio recordings and rendered them into the written format that is presented on the articles section of our website.

Making resources on traditional Tibetan culture easily available for all while supporting our activities.

Online Shop

The online shop of the SSIUK offers books, audio downloads, audio recordings, video streaming and DVDs on all aspects of Tibetan culture including many of our SSIUK Lectures. There are also various games and some traditional items available. It is also a service for members of the International Dzogchen Community who need practice materials, most of which are published by Shang Shung Publications and Shang Shung Edizioni in Italy.

The shop provides one of the main income streams of the SSIUK which helps towards allowing us to continue our other activities. In March 2018 we significantly expanded and upgraded our online shop.

Fundraising Activities

We depend on fundraising activities and the generosity of our donors in order to continue our work

Losar Lungtas

Losar, or Tibetan New Year is an important time for purification and activities associated with with Long Life and generating good causes for the coming year. The hoisting of Lungtas or Prayer Flags, usually in a number that corresponds with a persons age is a practice that harmonises that five elements of the individual, is a purification and generates merit by spreading special Mantras into the wind.

Every year, we offer Lungta hoisting service in sacred places in Nepal. People are given the opportunity to order Lungtas online and our intrepid fundraiser Jamyang Oliphant travels to Nepal to purchase and arrange for the flags to be empowered and hoisted in collaboration with local Buddhist Sangha's. Each year we raise around £5000 in this way.

Vesak Animal Release

For the first time in 2016, in collaboration with the Sangha of Chatral Rinpoche in Nepal, we gave people the opportunity to puchase animals online to be released from slaughter in Nepal and freed into places where they are not endangered. This is a practice that is performed traditionally on Vesak or Buddha's day. It is a way for people to generate merit, and also to generate the causes health and long life. Through this activity, we were able to raise 2000 Euros respectively for the Shang Shung Institute UK, and also the Sangha of Chatral Rinpoche. Thanks to Jamyang Oliphant for coordinating this auspicious activity. In 2017 we were able to raise over £12000 and released over 19000 fish. Thank you to everyone who took part!
